

West Virginia State University (WVSU) is located near the capital city of Charleston, West Virginia. WVSU offers 23 baccalaureate degrees and 5 graduate degrees in media studies, biotechnology, and law enforcement /administration. Yeager Airport is less than a 20 minute drive from the WVSU campus and provides non-stop flights to Washington, D.C.; Chicago, Illinois; Charlotte, North Carolina; Atlanta, Georgia; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. With more than 3,000 students and a student-faculty ratio of 17:1, students are able to learn in a comfortable, supportive environment, while experiencing the opportunities associated with a much larger university. An International Student Center has become the central focal point for international student community activities, providing an orientation for new international students, a place for the International Student Association to meet and social/cultural activities offered throughout the year. WVSU, a Historically Black University, offers a Bachelor of Arts in International Studies, an interdisciplinary degree program that consists of five concentration areas: Africana Studies; Communication; International Business; International Relations; and Foreign Language.
